

One Day Introductory Workshop on Patent Basics at Asian Paints, Turbhe, Navi Mumbai

28 August 2015 | Time: 9am – 3pm | Asian Paints, R&T, Turbhe

Patents help inventors and companies protect their inventions. Patents have become a key component of today's knowledge economy. Increasingly, students, researchers and practicing scientists and engineers are expected to be aware of patents and know enough about patents to carry out their responsibilities effectively. This workshop aims to provide an introduction to IPR to the researchers at Asian Paints and also the importance of IP, patents specifically, in research as well as business. The workshop will also aim at providing the insights into IP analytics such as FTO, Patentability as well as the filing and prosecution of patents which includes process of application of patent, drafting the patent application and prosecution process for Indian and PCT application.

For whom

Researchers, Scientist, Technology Officers

Highlights

Introduction to Intellectual Property | Identifying inventions. Carrying out preliminary searches using free patent databases | Defining prior art | Introduction to types of patent searches | Identifying search strings and refining searches | Introduction to source of information: paid and unpaid databases | General protocol of searching

Organizers

Supported by

